FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GLENGUIN CELEBRATES BEST EVER RESULTS IN 2017 HALLIDAY WINE COMPANION

The release of the 2017 edition of James Halliday's Wine Companion last week has again revealed Glenguin Estate as the hidden gem of the Hunter Valley with 5 wines being rated at 95 points or above and also regaining our five red star winery rating.

The trio of 2014 shirazes – Stonybroke (95pts), Schoolhouse Block (97pts) and the flagship Aristeia (97pts) – all received high praise as premium Hunter Valley wines.

Glenguin Estate vigneron Robin Tedder, MW, says "The 2014 shirazes from Glenguin make all the hard work over a quarter of a century seem worthwhile. The wines have a purity and zing to them whilst also being endowed with terrific length, depth and balance, capable of extended development in bottle, over decades in the case of Schoolhouse and Aristeia. The unique bench of river gravel at Glenguin (the main reason we purchased the property) has proven itself a wonderful site for shiraz, especially so in 2014."

Cellar Door Manager Phil Jones says the result is a win for the Broke Fordwich region as well as Glenguin Estate. "The result illustrates just how special the Broke Fordwich region is. We are consistently seeing wines of the highest quality coming from here. Our results, along with those of Margan, Stomp! and Catherine Vale, showcase the region as a producer of super premium wine, particularly shiraz, that can rival those from anywhere else in the country."

Also rated as outstanding wines were two older releases – the 2007 Aristeia Shiraz (95pts) and the 2006 Classic Aged Release Semillon (96pts). The current release 2015 Semillon was rated highly as well, scoring 88 points.

The James Halliday Wine Companion is recognised nationally as the industry benchmark and is keenly anticipated each year by winemakers, collectors and wine lovers alike.

James Halliday
2017 Wine Companion

2014
Aristea Shiraz
97 points
"A totally compelling wine with it's multiplicity of messages, half deriving from the terrorr and vintage, half from the vilification."
drinking to 2044

2014
Schoolhouse Block Shiraz
97 points
"Both the bouquet and palate have complex elements, but the wine shares the medium bodied freshness of its siblings."
drinking to 2044

2006
Classic Aged Release Semillon
96 points
"Is it better than it was 4 years ago? Yes, it is. Is the wine worth the price? Absolutely - it should be twice that."
drinking to 2026

2014
Stonybroke Shiraz
95 points
"Has a striking freshness to the array of red and black fruits; the palate has compelling length and freshness."
drinking to 2044

2007
Aged Release Aristea Shiraz
95 points
"Confidently holding its bright colour and equally confidently all its quality markers since first tasted 3 years ago."
drinking to 2037

2015
Semillon
88 points
A classic Hunter Valley Semillon; lemon and lime tang balanced by natural acidity drinking fresh while young but will reward with time.
